POPULATION OF NILES IN CENSUS 1952

Industrial Growth Lauded by Niles Chamber of Commerce

12,705 IN TOWNSHIP

Other Towns Make Similar Gains in Their Population

According to the latest official report of the census, the population of Niles is 1952. This is a growth of 702 in the last ten years as the population in 1920 was 1250. Other towns of the township made similar growths. The total given for Washington Township is 12,705 while it was only 8,494 in 1920. This is a gain of 67 per cent.

Decoto is accredited as the largest town in the township with 2177 inhabitants and 313 residents of the Masonic Home, making a total of 2490. This town has doubled its population as it had only 1,200 inhabitants in 1920.

The population of the other towns as shown by the April census were: Alvarado, 1889; Centerville, 1657; Irvington, 1234; Mission San Jose, including the orphanage, 1000; Newark, 1533, and Warm Springs, 850.

Mrs. Fern Mitte and Mrs. Fred Trask, census takers for Niles and part of Decoto, had combined their reports in the first report, making it impossible to know the exact population of Niles, but this has now been reported separately.

The remarkable industrial growth of Niles is noted by the Niles Chamber of Commerce in the following statement:

"Niles is admirably situated at the junction of two main lines of the Southern Pacific Railroad, as well as being extensively served by the Western Pacific Railroad. Ample storage yards and switching facilities and exceptionally good labor conditions have been no small factor in bringing important industries to Niles.

"The tile industry is prominently represented here by the Kraft Tile Company, whose product runs to 750,000 feet per year output of ornamental and utility tile and the National Tile Fixture Company; the Improved Interlocking Roof Tile Company, and the California Pottery Company have large plants here.

"The Niles quarry of the Pacific Coast Agregates Company, one of the outstanding sand and gravel producers in the country, and the Canyon Gravel Company are located here. Schuckl and Company engaged in canning, turns out between 20,000 and 30,000 cases of fruit during the summer months. The International Wood Products Company has an output of 50,000,000 boxes a year for the use of Kraft cheese factories throughout the United States.

The California Nursery, located here since 1884, and one of the state's most extensive and successful, is testimony of splendid soil and matchless climate of the section. Three hundred acres are in nursery tract, with forty acres more in test orchard containing 1200 varieties of fruits. More commercial varieties are introduced through this nursery than through any other institution in the West. Half a million roses alone are annually shipped from Niles to every part of the world."

SCHUCKL CANNERY TO COMMENCE FRUIT CANNING IN JULY

Entire Plant Is Painted Overhauled and Repaired

1930 operations for the annual fruit run of the Schuckl Cannery in Niles will start around July 1, said J. E. Townsend, superintendent, this week. The season will open with apricot canning. At the peak of the season 500 men and women are to be employed in the cannery.

The plant has been completely painted on the outside and the interior. The exterior painting job was rapidly finished last week by the use of paint sprayers.

All of the machinery and equipment has been overhauled and repaired, so that everything will be in tip-top shape when the cannery opens next month.

Employees Promoted

Several promotions were made for this year. A. F. Johnson, who has been the office manager for the past several years, is to be the warehouse foreman. Because of the death of Mr. Malfatti, C. F. Smith was promoted to the position of cookroom foreman. Leonard Bakke is the new office manager, and J. Earle Townsend keeps his steady position as superintendent.

Long Season

Following the apricot run, which will depend upon the amount and price of the fruit, the long peach run will commence. It is expected that 200,000 cases of peaches are to be packed here. After this season, fruit salad is to be canned. Two hundred thousand cases of this is also expected to be shipped from here. Operations will not close before the first of November.

TWO BOYS BREAK LEGS IN MOTOR-CYCLE ACCIDENT

A motorcycle and an automobile collided in Old Town, Niles, last Thursday evening, causing two young men on the motorcycle to be sent to the hospital.

Hubert Castro and Ernest Duarte, of Centerville, each had the right leg broken. Castro was taken to a San Jose hospital, while Duarte was rushed to the Highland hospital. Both young men were first taken to Grau's Emergency Hospital, where they received first aid treatment.

According to latest reports both are recovering as rapidly as could be expected.

Galena Viadea, of Niles canyon, who was the driver of the automobile, escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

LODGE WILL CONSTRUCT TWO-STORY BUILDING ON THEIR PRESENT SITE

Wrecking of the Present Structure Will Start Next Week

NILES lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows has decided to build a $25,000 hall on its property on the corner of First and J streets. This building is to be a two-story brick edifice, which will replace the present hall.

The contract was awarded to the lowest bidder at the meeting, Monday night. The present building, which is thirty-five years old, is to be razed beginning next week. While it is being torn down and the new one built the lodge will hold meetings in the Ellis building, which is adjacent to the property.

The new building is to be fifty by sixty five feet in size. It is to be two stories high and made of fire-proof construction. The hall and lodge rooms will occupy the upper hall. Two stores are to be built on the steet floor. The construction work will start immediately after the present building is torn down, and the work will be rushed.

Plans and arrangements including all specifications for the work drawn up by the architect, George E. Ellinger, of Oakland, have been accepted by the local Odd Fellows lodge. Local materials are to be used to the largest extent possible. Brick was chosen because it is made in this region.

It has been rumored that two new businesses will start in Niles as soon as the stores are completed. Niles is steadily growing in population, business, industries, factories, homes, and buildings!

Those who have charge of the proposed Odd Fellows building are the directors of the hall association, namely, H. R. Hunt, president; H. L. Scott, vice-president and secretary; Charles Plumb, Roy Rose, and Tony Mezza.

The officers of the lodge are: Tony Mezza, Noble Grand; Al Molter, Vice Grand; Charles Plumb, secretary; and H. L. Scott, treasurer.

Contracts Awarded

According to the latest report the contract for laying the brick was awarded to the Addison Company of Oakland, and carpentry work to Piterson, also of Oakland. Mr. Soda, of Oakland, will lay the foundation as soon as the old wreckage is cleared from the lots.

It is expected that the construction work on the new $25,000 building will start by July 15. Work is to be rushed without any delays.

COMMERCIAL BODY MAY PURCHASE A PICNIC GROUND

Invitation Given Chamber to Attend Flower Festival

A score of men attended the meeting of the Niles Chamber of Commerce held in the Florence Restaurant, Tuesday noon. All officers were presient and President Lewis K. Smith presided over the luncheon.

An invitation was received from the committee of the California Flower Festival to be held in San Leandro this September, asking the local Chamber of Commerce to participate in the show which will attract many outside and eastern business men. No action was taken regarding the matter and it was tabled until next week.

As there was no speaker, the members gave their own talks about past and proposed fishing trips which made all yearn for the mountain streams and rivers.

Proposed Picnic Site

Realizing that Niles canyon is one of the biggest assets of the community, the civic body is contemplating leasing one of the attractive picnic grounds in the canyon, so that visitors may have the privilege of enjoying a picnic and swim without paying a parking or camping fee.

J. Earle Townsend, secretary, believes that leasing such a park would be the best investment that the Niles Chamber of Commerce could make at this time, and that it could be maintained without expense to the organization. The plan under consideration is to place a man in charge of the property and allow him to derive his income from a refreshment stand which would be provided for him.

All of the attractive picnic spots in the canyon are now under lease. San Francisco has placed a barbed wire fence between the highway and the property not under lease so that the sanitary regulations may be maintained.

NILES P. T. A. HAS CLOSING MEETING OF SCHOOL YEAR

At the last meeting of the Niles Parent Teachers Association reports of the year's work were read by Mrs. Lester Duffey, historian; Mrs. E. A. Ellsworth, cafeteria report, and Mrs. Habenicht, eighth grade dinner.

Flowers were ordered sent to Leona Solon.

Mrs. Harvey Braun gave a report of the recent Niles Chamber of Commerce banquet and thanked the Camp Fire girls for serving the dinner.

Mrs. Rose Bulger, council president of this region, was present to install the incoming officers, a list of whom was printed in last week's Township Register. A bouquet of sweet peas was presented to each new officer.

Following the meeting a social hour was enjoyed while cake and ice cream were served.

NILES PLAYGROUND OPENED ON CHURCH PROPERTY SUCCESS

Supervised Recreational Periods Every Tuesday And Thursday

The playground of the Niles Congregational church opened Tuesday morning with a score of children enjoying its benefits. The grounds are to be kept open to the public every Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 8:30 to 10 A.M. throughout the summer months.

It is to be supervised at all times. Many interesting games are to be played. When the children are not using the grounds it may be used as tennis courts, as it is leveled off and has a high fence around it.

All children of the community are invited to participate in the activities of the playground. This recreational period will replace the usual Vacation Church School conducted in the church in recent years. There are not many churches able to offer supervised playgrounds for the children's benefit.

Niles Man Laid to Rest In Hayward Cemetery

Cosmo F. Malfatti was buried in the Holy Sepulchre cemetery last Saturday. The deceased had died a sudden death on June 4.

Malfatti was a native of Italy and arrived here at the age of 17. He worked in the American Can Company, of Oakland, for fourteen years, four years for the California Packing Corporation and ten years for Schuckl Canning Company. While employed here, he was the foreman of the cookroom and a master mechanic.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Georgia Malfatti.

CANYON PATROL BECAUSE OF MANY VISITING PEOPLE

Although more than thirty miles from home, uniformed policemen from San Francisco patrolled beats in Niles canyon, Sunday, when one of the largest crowds of the season invaded this scenic spot for picnics and swimming. The officers were used to protect the city"s newly acquired water system and to enforce sanitary regulations of the State Board of Health in public picnic grounds.

Traffic was so heavy through the canyon drive that State highway traffic officers were called upon to keep cars moving. Many of the motorists who were unable to find parking space in the picnic grounds left their automobiles beside the road and were given tickets for blocking traffic.

Several of these cases were tried before Judge Joseph A. Silva Tuesday afternoon. Those who did not appear were given fines.

Civic Leaders Attend C. of C. Luncheon

Harvey Braun, past-president of Niles Chamber of Commerce, and F. Vernon Jones, vice-president, attended a luncheon of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce in the Athens Club, Friday. They were the guests of Mr. Hudson, district passenger agent for the Southern Pacific company.

Paul Shutz was the speaker of the day. He gave a talk on "Business As It Is." Five hundred were present at this luncheon.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

By NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

FEELING THE PUBLIC PULSE.

THE WRITER spent a few days in Southern California last week, renewing acquaintances in Los Angeles and other near-by cities. He made it a point to get the drift of political opinion; and to everyone he met he put the question of how the governorship contest was shaping, and what the individual's opinion was as to the relative strength of the three major contenders for California's highest official position.

From what we learned from personal friends, from newspaper people, from business men, from casual acquaintances in hotels, at the restaurants and on the trains, we are convinced that there are really only two candidates who are seriously in the race. Fitts, for some reason that we were quite unable to fathom, seems to have eliminated himself from serious consideration.

The greatest surprise came in the strength of Rolph. If one was to take his cue from the man in the street, the governorship fight has already been settled. Everywhere we went, Rolph's name was mentioned with a fine sense of admiration. The man seems to have caught the fancy of the voter in the land south of the Tehachapi. We tried to analyze the strength of Rolph, as we tried to fathom the apparent debacle of the Fitts boom. The thing was not easily done. If those with whom we talked had favored the San Francisco mayor entirely on the ground that he is reputed to be of a liberal mind along matters of a personal regulatory nature—in other words, if the men and women who favored his candidacy so warmly had all been "wet" in their political proclivities, we would have had the matter cleared very rapidly for us. But that was not the case. Many who favored his candidacy were people whom we have known for years and throughout those years have been as warmly in favor of the Eighteenth Amendment as the writer of this column.

Rolph's strength, then, seems to be partly in the charm of his personality, and the splendid record he has to his credit in San Francisco of standing firm against capitalistic domination of the municipal government of that great city.

** * **

Apathy in Young's Campaign.

Young is not as strong as he should be, considering that he is an incumbent, and has back of him a vast political patronage machine, created by the multitudinous commissions that now surfeit the state government. There seems to be apathy to his candidacy, rather than open and hostile opposition. As governor he has disappointed many of his former admirers. He has lacked strength in taking a positive stand upon the issues that have from time to time arisen. Where he has legislated wisely, poor generalship has kept the public in ignorance of the good he has done. When he has been wrong, his opposition has given the matter wide publicity. It is lack of initiative on his part rather than intention that has made his friends indifferent as to his future political fortunes, and the rank and file find nothing in him over which to grow enthusiastic.

Independent bankers in the south are fighting Young. They don't like Will C. Wood, his appointee, and the administration of the state banking department. This campaign is carried on quietly, but independent financial groups in the south and elsewhere are powerful, and their influence is bound to tell in the impending struggle between Young and Rolph.

At the present time the writer would venture the opinion that the race will be close between those two candidates. We believe that, from apparent indications, the former has slightly the edge on the present governor.

LOCAL NASH MAN EXPLAINS TWIN-IGNITION MOTOR

Automobile engineers have succeeded in capturing a maximum degree of the vital expansion qualities of present day motor fuels, it was pointed out today by Edward George, of the Centerville Nash Company, in discussing the intrinsic value of twin-ignition development.

"To understand the advantages of twin-ignition as an engineering achievement," he said, "it is necessary to think of automobile fuel as only the crude element of motive power. Volatile fuels were common before the first automobile was built. Their qualities of expansion were always present. It remained for engineers to devise the method of translating that expansion into power, and for Nash engineers to bring out the last ounce of latent force, flexibility and economy in that power through twin-ignition.

"When vaporized and pre-heated gasoline enters one of the eight cylinders of the Nash valve-in-head, Twin-Ignition Eight motor, for example, the most effective method of transforming it into smooth motive power so far developed is ready to receive it. The measured charge of gas is first distributed evenly in a combustion chamber whose machined surfaces have no roughness or pockets to interfere with perfect ignition. The upward stroke of the Nash aluminum piston compresses this gas into a space less than twenty per cent of its normal size.

"Twin, aircraft-type spark plugs—the finest and latest developed in the industry—then send their white hot flashes into the mixture at two opposite points. The compressed gas, expanding evenly, swiftly and completely, sends its concentrated waves of force to the piston head and thence through the driving units to the rear wheels of the car."

The Sunol Glen school put on a movie at the school house last Wednesday morning. The kiddies were much pleased with the picture. Several of the parents attended.

MOTORISTS ARE CAUTIONED TO DRIVE SLOWER

"To insure the children of California a safer and happier vacation, the Safety Conference is appealing to the motorists of this state to be particularly cautious in driving on the streets and highways during June and July," according to Mrs. James R. Whipple, chairman, representing Washington Township.

"During the past year ten per cent of fatalities due to automobile accidents were those of children. It may be a legal defense that an accident is 'unavoidable,' but many of these unavoidable automobile driver is willing to sacc-idents can be avoided if the aurifice a few moments of his time each day to make due allowances for the sudden movements of playing children.

"If all motorists of California will cooperate in using a little more care and caution during the vacation period, the horror of this death list of children can be eliminated."

Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Garcia will leave Monday for a two months tour of Europe. Their many friends wish them a happy trip.

THIRTY-TWO PUPILS GIVEN DIPLOMAS IN DECOTO

"A Romance of '49" Staged Before a Capacity Audience

Commencement exercises were held in the Decoto Grammar School auditorium, last Thursday evening. A play, "A Romance of '49," by the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades, opened the program. David E. Martin, county superintendent of schools, was the speaker of the evening.

As the name of the play implies, it was a farce staged in a mining camp in California in June, 1850. Those in the cast were: John Whipple, manager of the Forrest Theatrical company; Vivian Luna, actress; Matilda Silva, actress; Ralph Leiva, the dictator of Pancake Flat; Manuel Seone, the mysterious stranger; Milton Nevis, Clarence Perry, and Charles Nunes, miners; Joe Silva, the dictator's shadow; Manuel Gutierrez, a pawnbroker; Alvira Silva, Patty Mayhew; Leonard Brown, Tom Butler; Julia Delgado, Chinese cook; Elizabeth Castro, Mrs. Smithers; Eleanor Harrold and Anita Cortez, ladies from the East; and Frank Aviles, stage driver.

The miners in a group were Harry Sekigahama, Aniseto Tapia, Jesse Tapia, Fred Nunes, and Carlo Arroya. There were three other group dances, Chinese, flower, and quadrille.

The graduation exercises were opened with the singing of "Dobru Noc," the class song. Manuel Seone gave the address of welcome, followed by a few remarks from Henry May, clerk of the Board of Trustees. Mr. Martin made his annual graduation speech before a packed auditorium of Decoto people. Diplomas were presented to thirty-two pupils by A. P. Peacock, principal.

The members of the school's largest graduating class were: Manuel Seone, Vivian Luna, Annie Ramos, Fred Nunes, Hortense Silva, Lorraine Bettencourt, Harry Sekigahama, Cipriana Pacheco, Anita Cortez, Carlo Arroyo, Alvira Silva, Bernice Brown, Ralph Leiva, Helen Vegas, Kimiko Nakayama, Leandro Soto, Gonzola Romero, Margaret Quesada, Frank Aviles, Lucille Nevis, Antonia Colona, Bernice Flores, Eleanor Harrold, Joseph Silva, Antenette Torquemada, Julia Delgado, Elizabeth Castro, Flora Paniagua, John Whipple, Ramona Monte, and Matilda Silva.

SCHOOL BOYS ARE WOUNDED IN AUTO ACCIDENT HERE

One of the worst accidents in recent months occurred on the Decoto highway, Thursday morning, when a Dodge automobile crashed into a truck coming around the corner. Clarence Perry, a pupil of the Decoto Grammar school, was driving the car and Frank Aviles, the truck. With Clarence were six of his school pals.

It is reported that the Dodge was speeding down the street on the wrong side at such a speed that it could not stop in time to prevent the accident which caused the Dodge to turn over several times before it stopped. When it did, it looked like a pile of junk out in the dump grounds. The truck and driver were not damaged. Frank Aviles escaped with several scratches and his suit was torn in several places. He was graduated from the Decoto grammar school that night.

Clarence Perry and William Muniz were rushed to the hospital, where they are slowly recovering. The other boys received cuts and bruises. Those in the accident were Fred Nunes, August Abreu, Leonard Brown, Wilbert Avilla, William Muniz, Clarence Perry, and Frank Avilla.

FRANK M. OGDEN SPEAKER AT MEET OF CIVIC BODY

Asst. District Attorney Explains Work of Department.

At the weekly luncheon meeting of the Centerville Chamber of Commerce held in the El Lido restaurant last Tuesday noon, Honorable F. M. Ogden was the speaker of the day. He was introduced by his personal friend, President Frank T. Dusterberry, who presided over the luncheon.

Frank Ogden, who is assistant district attorney of Alameda county, told of the numerous duties and activities of the civil department of the district attorney's office in Oakland. Six people are employed to handle the civil cases alone, whereas many think only criminal cases are taken up by this office.

His department institutes suits for Alameda county against others, and defends suits brought against the county. He acts as attorney for the public administrator. The fees collected from these estates amounted to $11,000 in 1929. Ogden is also the legal adviser to the board of supervisors of Alameda county and all other county officials. His department transacts all legal business for the school boards, such as, contract awarding legal notices and bonds.

Ogden made a favorable impression upon the forty men from the township who were present at the meeting. Representatives were from Decoto, Niles, Irvington and Newark. Many of the men knew Ogden, who is a former resident of Niles. He is a graduate of the University of California.

Attorney Ogden is aspirant for the seat of Superior Judge, replacing Judge Engs, who was recently found dead in a quarry in Oakland.

IT TAKES 5 POINTS TO MAKE A STAR AND ALL THESE 5 QUALITIES TO MAKE GOOD GASOLINE

ASSOCIATED IS Equi-fractionated

FROM the moment you step on the starter to the time you settle back to yield to the joy of full speed ahead, your eager motor demands five vital qualities from the gasoline it consumes. For finest performance it must have them all; Starting, Pick-up, Power, Speed, Mileage—in correct proportion.

That's why Associated Gasoline is Equi-fractionated. Lighter gasoline fractions in vapor form are scientifically blended with heavier fractions—from higher boiling points—to assure, first, Starting and Pick-up, and then Power, Speed and surprisingly long Mileage.

Step by step, just as your car gets under way from low gear to high, Associated Gasoline is Equi-fractionated to supply the successive demands of your motor.

No one quality alone makes good gasoline; it takes them all. Don't be content with less. Read the interesting "Equi-fractionated" pamphlet picturing this refining care in assuring you a perfectly balanced motor fuel. out, that independent paper has sent a broadside into the armor of the Los Angeles district attorney. The incessant and relentless warfare has gradually worn down the Chandler candidate, and made him an object of derision generally throughout the metropolitan area of that great city. While we were visiting there we read in the Record of Fitts' connection with the Ramona company, a subdivision project in which investors lost hundreds of thousand of dollars. Fitts made a rather evasive denial of the whole thing, but it left the public believing that there was some truth in the story. Another article was an interview with Fitts' former wife, now struggling for existence in her little two-room cottage. It was a sad tale, cleverly written by a newspaper man who knew his "typewriter." The tale was true, evidently. It created aversion for the reform district attorney. Among those who are opposed to divorce, it alienated respect. The tale led one to believe that Fitts had not treated his former wife with common regard, and had failed to provide for her simplest wants, when putting her aside to take unto himself perhaps a more comely and younger mate.

Augmenting these somewhat sensational and sentimental stories, is an array of statistical facts that Fitts has convicted not a single one of the Julian over-stock perpetrators, that he has "whitewashed" the men of large financial standing involved in this shameful exploitation of the unwary investor.

And, after all, what has Fitts really done to claim the attention of the thoughtful voter—what spectacular thing has marked his career as district attorney of Los Angeles? He has convicted his predecessor, and sent Pantages to the county jail. The former has now succeeded in securing reversal on some of the points involved in his incarceration, from the Supreme Court of California; and it seems to be the concensus of opinion that the theatrical magnate will never again go to jail—and like Pilate, Fitts has washed his hands of the whole affair. And there you are!

A Growing Menace to Girlhood.

We were pained to notice the widespread use of the cigarette among the girls and matrons of the south. As serious a menace as that practice has grown in our own northern California, the habit is even more pronounced in the haunts of filmdom. That, of course, is natural. The habit first took root among the stars and near stars of Hollywood. The producer, in filming his pictures of high society life, took the responsibility upon himself to impress the proletariat that all girls and women of wealth were addicts of the cigarette. It was here that the girl we know and you know got her cue. It was just the smart thing to do. Lack of parental authority gave the habit a chance to take root in our young womanhood, and now she finds herself a slave to the disgusting habit—a habit that is undermining the finer things that were once hers. In every restaurant in which we ate it was the same—practically every girl, and middle-aged woman who should have known better, was inhaling nicotine between her food courses, and exhaling the insiduous poison through her dainty nostrils, just like her male companions, a tougher animal that can stand considerable dissipation.

We went into the club car on our Pullman while the porter was making up our berth. In bygone years this was a man's exclusive quarters. Not so now. Half the chairs and seats were occupied by young girls smoking cigarettes, one after another. No shame. No modesty. No charm. The whole thing was disgusting, revolting.

Picking up a menu from the table before us we learned that cigarettes were not sold on the trains in the states of Iowa, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Utah and Nevada. The movement, you will see, against the cigarette has started. Started as the movement against liquor started. It will spread. We shall, before long, have another prohibition. It may be attributed to the viciousness of cigarette manufacturers who have been advertising their products direct to the girls of America, and to the vicious practice of men and boys who encourage their girl companions to join them in a habit that, because of their high-strung nervous system, girls can not practice without seriously bad results physically and morally.

Amador High School Safe Is Looted Again

Bolts, bars, combinations and flood lights apparently have no meaning to the culprits who invaded Amador Valley High School on June 7 and made away with a few dollars left in the safe over the week-end.

It was thought by officials of the school that the thugs were of the impression that the money from the senior play would be in the safe over Saturday night, but such was not the case, and the burglars had their work for practically nothing.

The combination of the safe was worked and the few dollars in it taken. Nothing else was disturbed, according to R. O. Moyer, principal of the school.

CHURCH SERVICE GIVEN IN HONOR NILES GRADUATES

A commencement service in honor of the graduates of the high school and the grammar school belonging to the Niles Congregational church was held, Sunday morning.

The worship service and decorations were both in honor of them. Reverend Elmer Brinkmeyer preached a sermon on "Winning the Game," which was of special interest to the young people.

This was the first time that such a service was ever attempted in that church and proved to be a success although several had already left town.

A Benediction

At the mountain's base, lies the little mound;
(To my brother, Ben Farrington, who left this life just one year ago, June 18, 1929.)

He was a whistling happy lad,
Whose life was adventurous and glad;
Onward thru' childhood's day he went,
His cheerful gift to others lent.
When burdens came with heavy hand,
He ventured forth with courage grand;
His smiling face belied the fact
His heart was torn, and worry-racked.

All day he whistled, as he worked
Tho' oft good luck her duty shirked;
Yet he undaunted on his way,
Toiled onward, smiling day by day.
A family came in course of time,
His glad heart sang in lilting rhyme;
For he, atuned to things of earth,
Was one with youth and joy, from birth.

He was loyal, and square with his fellow men,
Then he'd roam the hills, a child again;
He loved his wife and children three;
And each member of his family.
Faith he possessed in large amount,
And hope, beyond all dreams, or count;
Courage in so great a measure,
It was thru' life his priceless treasure.

Success, he gained in rich reward,
Just to sing and toil, and serve the Lord;
For he was happy all the days,
And helped in simple, kindly ways.
When sad, or ill, or in despair;
We'd always find him smiling there,
And so—we'd feel content, secure
He was so dependable, and so sure.

His spirit was a guiding light,
A gleaming beacon—day and night;
Enthusiasm waxed supreme,
When e'er his smiling face was seen.
And so he lived his little day,
Still eager, smiling, he slipped away;
Bravely courageous thru life he trod—
The righteous path-way close to God.

Our eyes are dim with sorrow's tear,
We long for him, we loved so dear;
Who gave us hope, and cheer and joy,
And left this earth, while still a boy;
He just reached mile-post 32—
Before him lay so much to do,
But we, who loved with him as one;
Suspected not, his work was done.

Struggle, achievement, joy and pain
He left behind, and once again—
Tho' anguished, groping, sadly we
Have mended torn threads, in Life's tapestry.
In making the pattern whole, there are
Still broken threads, and a deep-set scar.
Tears have been shed in vain regret,
So many things we can't forget—

That might perhaps, have aided him,
In moments when his hopes were dim.
But Memory lends a kindly hand,
It comes to comfort this sad band
Of earthly pilgrims, here below,
Who struggle onward—happy so
For in despair, or woe or doubt,
He comes in Memory, to help out—

The family that he loved so well,
And hope with him again, to dwell.
Tho' he is gone beyond recall,
He helps us still, yes—one and all;
The form we loved rests far from sound,
At the Mountain's base, lies the little mound;
But the soul we love, is with us here,
Guiding, inspiring, with smiling cheer,—

Just as he came but yesterday,
To help us over Life's rough way;
Singing a song so blithe and gay,
Kindly, vibrant, alive—alway.
He has gone on to pave the way,
So we may follow, some sweet day;
To break the trail, and for us wait
Our beloved, "Keeper of the Gate."

Today's Scripture LESSON

By Rev. John R. Stevenson

Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer.—Ps. xix.14.

The thoughts that in our hearts keep place,
Lord, make a holy, heavenly throng,
And steep in innocence and grace
The issue of each guarded tongue.

NILES FIRE DEPT. HAS BUSY WEEK FIGHTING FIRES

Niles Fire Department answered two calls Saturday. Both calls were for hay fires in back of the Kibby home on the California Nursery property. The first one was in the morning and the cause was unknown.

The second fire probably started from some sparks blown across the field from the morning fire. About twenty stacks of hay were burned on a field about 400 by 100 feet.

Fire Chief Bert Rathbun and his assistants quickly extinguished both conflagrations, before they could spread to nearby homes.

Free Burning Service

The fire department burnt a lot near the grammar school, Friday night. It has offered its services gratis to anyone wishing to have a lot of dry weeds or grass burned. In order to prevent summer fire loss this precaution is taken, and the residents are asked to take advantage of it.
